Ecclesiastes 4:9-12

9 Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their toil. 10 For if they fall, one will lift up his fellow. But woe to him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up! 11 Again, if two lie together, they keep warm, but how can one keep warm alone? 12 And though a man might prevail against one who is alone, two will withstand him—a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

We live in the world of do it yourself. We're told that asking for help is a sign of weakness. We're told that the only way you get ahead is by showing your smart enough, strong enough, good enough all on your own. They say that anything less than self-reliance is weakness and in a dog eat dog world, weak is not something we can afford to be.

But scripture shows us that what the world tells us is not, in fact, true. Weakness is failing at something you could succeed at because you aren't willing to share the spotlight, swallow your pride, and ask for help.

God designed us to be a people who live in community, who care for each other, who bare one another's burdens, and who love each other deeply. Two are better than one. Better because they share the load, but also because they share the credit.

We were made to be a humble people. Humble enough to ask for help, humble enough to extend the hand, and humble enough to share the spotlight. Let's be a threefold people!
